

Information according to the Data Act (2023/2854)

Raiffeisen - Leasing, s.r.o., ID No. 61467863, with its registered office at Hvězdova 1716/2b, 140 00 Prague, registered in the Commercial Register administrated by the Municipal Court in Prague, section C, insert 29553, as The Lessor provides you as The Lessee with information related to your use of the so-called connected products (especially vehicles provided to you for the Lease).

The aim of the Data Act is to ensure fair and transparent procedures for data exchange and to enable data subjects to access and control the data generated by connected products.

In accordance with the Data Act, data holders on connected products are required to ensure:

- User control and transparency: You have the right to access and manage data. You have the right to obtain at least the following information in a clear and comprehensible manner:
 - the type, format, and estimated volume of data from products that the connected product is able to produce
 - whether the connected product can generate data continuously and in real time
 - whether the connected product can store data on a device or on a remote server, including the intended retention period where applicable
 - the way in which you can access, search or delete the data, including the technical means to carry out these operations, as well as the conditions of its use and quality of service.
- Fair access and use of data: You can request data for your own use or securely share it with selected parties.
- Technical protective measures and regulatory compliance: According to the Data Act, data sharing should take place under strict security measures and legal safeguards. At the same time, in the event of a dispute, you have the right to contact a certified dispute resolution entity or supervisory authority, which is the Czech Telecommunication Office.

All information that data holders are required to make available to you about connected products can be found on the website of the relevant data holder (typically the vehicle manufacturer or supplier) and in the user account, if the data holder manages it and the connected product is registered there. By signing the Lease Agreement, you confirm that you have become acquainted with this information from the data holder.
